CourseNetworking has the next generation global technology solution for teaching, learning and sharing. CourseNetworking has a strong track record in technology for online learning with its founder, Dr. Jafari being recognised as a thought leader in the industry.

Dr. Jafari's keynote is titled "Looking at the Next Generation of (Personal) Learning Environment: Social, Global, and Engaging". His keynote abstract will address the issues and shortcomings of the current LMS model and systems, while defining the critical functional requirements for a new Personal Learning Environment for today's learners -- a new framework that is global, social, and targeted.

The PLE Conference intends to create an engaging, conversational and innovative meeting space for researchers and practitioners to exchange ideas, experience and research around PLE related themes.
